Civics lesson for council

It was quite a city council meeting Monday night. In fact the meeting turned out to be an extended class in government.

A large group of students in the Political Science class was attending the meeting as part of their assignment. The council was cooperative in answering questions about the council. The students were interested in how the downtown area was developed. Councilman James Christensen said he wanted to make one thing clear, the area was developed before the Montclair Plaza opened and it was financed by the owners themselves under an assessment district and not by government or city funds.

The project took many years of study and many plans were presented and rejected before the final one was approved. Councilmen Zella Stone and Ronald Rossiter served on the final committee.

One action taken by the council was the approval of a resolution calling the Conflict of Interest law passed by the state last year as "ambiguous" and "poorly written."

Christensen said he did not object to such a law but that the present one needed to be rewritten.

Councilman A. M. Hawkins Jr. said the law should apply to elected officials and not appointive ones. He said he was not afraid to disclose assets as long as the bill was fair.

Rossiter objected to any law that invades a person's "privacy." "It is no one's business," he said.

Mayor Gibson replied, "If you go into public office you sacrifice some of your privacy."

Christensen objected to having the law cover local governments and not the state and legislature. "The legislatures seem to be exempt from everything including the Brown Act," he said.

Councilman Stone said "With estimate of value made on current prices, your competitors would know the worth of your business, and this does not seem fair."

In other business, the council heard committee reports, approved warrants, and approved a ball park in the southwest quadrant of the city.

Bonita Publishing names ad manager

Van Mitchell has joined Bonita Publishing Co. as advertising manager, announced General Manager Bob Bush.

Mitchell, 41, will supervise the advertising department for Bonita. Before joining the company, he was editor and part owner of a San Bernardino weekly newspaper, the San Bernardino Independent.

Bonita Publishing Co. publishes six weekly newspapers in Los Angeles and San Bernardino Counties. The three papers in eastern L. A. 'Big Bang Theory' has star billing

This universe's origin and eventual demise will be explored in terms of "The Big Bang theory" at Chaffey College's Daniel B. Milliken Planetarium, March 3, 10 and 31.

Graphically portrayed with commentary and appropriate background music will be the development of individual stars, their birth and life cycle, in the Tuesday presentations at 7:15 p.m.

Discussed, too, will be photographic evidence of entire galaxies vanishing through black holes at the edges of the known universe and speculations as to universes beyond.

The college is holding March 17 open for a re-run of the February show, "The Northern Lights," based on popular demand.

Tuesday evening presentations planned for the balance of the spring semester are "Big Eyes, Big Ears" (April) and "Comets, Meteors and Immortality" (May).

Planetarium seating is on a first-come basis. Attendance capacity is 76 persons. Admission is free.

College addition approved by board

ALTA LOMA -- A $122,670 contract for the construction of an addition to the Chaffey College aeronautics building was awarded by the board of trustees last week at a special session.

The contract went to Emory Jackson Co., Inc., Ontario, the firm coming up with the lowest bid among eight competitors for the job.

The new facility, which is set for completion by mid-summer, will supplant the Chaffey College Hangar at Ontario International Airport. Chaffey's OIA facility was sold to the Los Angeles Airport Authority for $172,500.

Harnish, Morgan and Causey, Ontario, is the architectural firm retained for the aeronautics project.

Other Emory Jackson projects on the Chaffey campus were the Daniel B. Milliken Planetarium, the Forum Building and the Life Science addition.

School district overview given

Dr. Darrell Dawes, assistant superintendent of curriculum, Upland City School district, gave the USD citizens committee an overview of the educational system in the Upland schools at its regular Tuesday night meeting.

He outlined the educational program as being both instructional (teachers) and curriculum (books) centered and as being philosophical (concepts) and mechanized (ways of carrying out philosophies).

Dawes described the United States as unique in its concept of local education: "We do not have a state or federal curriculum, but each school district and state decides its own program."

However, he was quick to explain that local control exists only to the extent proscribed by the state and in one sense education is an extension of the state legislature, he said.

Schools are administered under Title V of the administrative code and the California Education code, which he said was contained in two large volumes, and by which the districts must abide.

"There are 2,250 pages in the book with some 500 words per page. We figure there are a million and a quarter words giving school districts directions on how to operate, and every year the legislature adds more," he told the group.

The Educational program in the state is administered by a 10-man board appointed by the governor, and most people feel it should be by election. The state superintendent is elected, and Citizens-chamber clash over shopping center

In a five to one decision, the Planning Commission turned down a proposed $4 million dollar shopping center at Euclid Avenue and 19th Street.

The dissenting vote was cast by chairman of the commission, Frank Carpenter. Commission member Vern Murray was absent. Carpenter was for continuing the matter for further study because there hadn't been enough analysis of the situation. Failing to get it continued, he voted no on abolishing it completely.

The chambers were filled with residents of the area involved who objected to locating the shopping center in what they termed as the "best section of Upland."

One of the opponents to the project said, "We want to keep quality in North Upland. Do you want our city to be another San Marino or a Mountain Avenue in Ontario?" he asked the commission.

"If you want this shopping center," he said, "have the developers put it south of Foothill, not here with our $65,000 homes."

a resolution which favored the shopping center and which was approved at the board of directors meeting of the chamber on Thursday afternoon.

He said that a freeway off ramp would be located in the area and since the area is bounded by the northwest Cucamonga channel is unsuitable for homes and the chamber therefore felt a shopping center would be in order. He said the center was to be of high quality and the site would more than meet the high standards of the city.

He cited the large tax base the center would bring to the city, some $110,000, which would help broaden the tax base of the city.

Making the presentation for the shopping center was John Anderson of Jafam Corporation, developer of the proposed center. He told the commissioners that the center would have good access routes and would not bring additional traffic to the area.

"It is not designed to attract people from other communities," Anderson said.

Robert Wright, 1706 N. Euclid

Ave., charged, "There would be no shopping center there without the planned freeway access. We all know the object is to make money with an investment, and if these people didn't expect to make money, they wouldn't develop here."

The citizens at the commission meeting expressed surprise that the Chamber would support this center rather than the downtown merchants.

The area involved is now zoned R-1-A (Single family residential with 20,000 foot minimum lot size and A-1 (Agricultural). The land area was proposed as 731,348 sq. ft. with the building area as 175,500 sq. ft. and it was estimated as having parking for 883 cars. The center was to have been located on 16.8 acres.

The corporation has five days in which to appeal the decision to the council and if they do so, the matter would come up at the Mar. 16 Council meeting. If they are turned down at the council, they may then re-apply to the Planning Commission again and repeat the process.

TALKING OVER PROBLEMS -- John Meyer, president, Ontario-Upland Optimist Club, discusses area problems with Dan Mikesell, county board of supervisor. Mikesell appeared at the club Wednesday, Feb. 25, and discussed area problems.

Areawide involvement may solve problems

Area-wide involvement was one solution offered by Dan Mikesell, member of the county board of supervisors, to the problem of transportation and environment. Mikesell was featured speaker at a noon luncheon meeting last week of the Upland-Ontario Optimist Club.

The Oklahoma-born supervisor, who calls himself a "native Californian" because he moved to the state at an early age and attended the schools in the state, has had an extensive background in city and county government and has held many positions in these areas as well as in the state government.

Serves on committee

His interests in government have settled primarily in two areas, aeronautics and transportation, where he has served on many committees on both the county and state level.

As to area development, he said that in the aviation problem, steps have been taken to bring together all of the counties and cities that are or will be affected by airports, and to come up with some criteria on airports that will make them both profitable and acceptable to the areas.

Area development has also been involved with the pollution problem.

"Pollution has no boundaries," he said. Mikesell outlined the growth of the Ontario International Airport to the present time and said it is well on its way to becoming an international airport with the same stature as the one in Los Angeles.

An added problem for airports is not so much the building of one as it is getting people to them and getting them processed so they can fly.

Mikesell told the group of a recent experience illustrating this fact. He said it took him eight hours to get to Redlands. The flying time was only two hours, but it took him six hours to get to the airports and get tickets and the rest of the time was spent whiling away the hours in holding patterns.

"There must be a better way of getting to the airport," he said.

Solutions offered

He offered the following solutions to the problem. Planes that have short take-off and landing capacity; busing of passengers to the airports, using a rail system to get passengers to the airport, or better routes for cars.

Turning to the problem of airport development, he said that the 10 counties had gotten together to study airports and were working with cities, counties, state and federal governments on establishing criteria for airport development.

Unique step

"This has never been done anywhere in the United States, and if it succeeds in our area, the plan may set the precedent for future airport development

MOTORISTS' NIGHTMARE -- Euclid Avenue motorists are mighty tired of zigzagging around the overpass bridge on Euclid Avenue while Highway Department workmen try to complete the necessary widening work. The bridge becomes a nightmare during peak traffic hours with motorists dodging workmen, equipment and two traffic lights. The Highway Department does not expect the nightmare to end for another six months and alternate routes are a folly because San Antonio street is closed and other streets are as bad as Euclid Avenue.

Freeway nightmare will continue

Traffic detours around state highway construction on the San Bernardino (Route 10) freeway at Euclid Avenue (Route 83) and at Central Avenue in the Ontario/Upland area will be in effect beginning this week, weather permitting, according to the California Division of Highways in San Bernardino.

The old Euclid Avenue bridge over the freeway will be removed during nighttime operations lasting most of the week, following the holiday period, according to R. H. Ramey, District Engineer (acting).

Freeway traffic will be detoured to one roadbed during bridge demolition (initially to the north roadbed), with two lanes for eastbound traffic and one lane for westbound traffic between the hours of 7 p.m. and 5:30 a.m. While these restrictions will be lifted during the hours of daylight, the work will resume on each of three successive nights, probably beginning Feb. 24.

On Euclid Avenue, while bridge railings are being installed, traffic will be shifted by stages to the median area of the bridge.

Affecting southbound traffic initially, detours over the new bridge are expected to remain in effect for several weeks.

At Central Avenue, there will be detours in effect for several weeks at the freeway ramp connections, to permit construction in this latter area of the new permanent on-and-off ramps.

Minor traffic delays may be expected but every effort will be made to hold these to a minimum. Motorists are cautioned to observe the posted speed limits through the work areas.

Study zoning now

With the proposal of a shopping center in the Euclid Avenue-19th Street area, it should be apparent that a study of zoning in Upland is overdue. Confusion has been generated by zone changes, proposals of shopping centers and other uses of land in Upland.

In 1969 a general plan was adopted. It was stated that it was not a zoning plan, but rather a long-range plan policy guide. The plan is subject to review, says a brochure from the Planning Department.

The zoning plan on the other hand is a specific statement of the contemporary regulations governing private land use and development. It is established by ordinance as law. Eventually the two plans should agree, the same brochure adds.

It is no wonder people are confused. The citizens think the zoning general plan is to protect their residential areas. The commercial group thinks the general plan was established to see that land is available for commercial use and they expect to locate in areas where commerce is zoned.

Often the two sides do not agree and a clash of ideals results accompanied by disagreements that sometimes are hard to heal.

When a city changes from agricultural to urban, it is often difficult to decide on zoning that will please everyone. However, Upland has stressed the city as residential and has given residential use first claim on the land. After single-residential use come multiple dwellings and commercial. Hardly a thought has been given to manufacturing or industrial nor has too much thought been given to open spaces.

Many people have felt the downtown area was to be the one commercial area in the city. However, over a period of time, Foothill Boulevard, Mountain Avenue and many other areas of the city have also gone commercial. There should have been as much planning in these areas as was done in the downtown area.

Often the reason there hasn't been good planning in these areas is simply one of "expediency." Some people haven't cared enough to see the land was developed in an orderly fashion, and some people have been sold a "bill of goods."

It is time Upland took a look at the situation. By Upland, we mean the Chamber of Commerce, businessmen, the city council, the planning commissioners, and citizens working together to hammer out a realistic zoning plan for the city, that would solve once and for all the matter of commercial versus residential.

This study should be made on a responsible basis with many voices being heard and on the basis of what is best for all and not the expediency of the "fast buck."

Busing opposition grows

Our Man In Washington

By BILL KENNEDY

WASHINGTON - The busing of students to achieve school integration has been a smoldering fire in America for a good many years. Recent congressional debate on the new Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill did much to put this issue in proper focus.

For a long time the issue of busing students from one school to another and from one district to another to achieve racial balance cropped up only occasionally, and wherever the people were given opportunity to vote on the matter (directly or through school board positions) they generally rejected it overwhelmingly.

But as the practice was expanded, more and more parents - both black and white - raised their voices in protest. When the Supreme Court ordered immediate desegregation of certain school districts in the South and the busing of students to achieve it, it provided the impetus which could well bring a halt to all forced busing.

This court order, of course, wreaked havoc with the schools. It forced the closing of many black schools, overcrowded and overtaxed the white schools and involved tremendous expense in the buying of additional buses.

MORE IMPORTANTLY, this uprooted children when they had to leave home earlier than previously in order to ride a bus to some distant school in strange surroundings, and more time was wasted in getting home. It was protested by black and white parents alike.

Then came Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi who conducted an exhaustive survey and found that the North, East and West had schools segregated to a much more extent than did the South - this coming about, not through policy but by neighborhood patterns - de facto segregation.

Stennis offered an amendment to the HEW bill that calls for equal application of the law to desegregate schools everywhere - not just in the South, and the Senate approved it.

IT'S DIFFICULT, indeed, to understand how forced busing got such a foothold in this country when almost everyone except the bureaucrats in HEW say they oppose it. The concern is pointed up by this excerpt from a letter, written by a mother of three, to her senator:

"A sad day has come to our beloved America when we see our government using the same methods as Communists to achieve what it wants."

Negro columnist William Raspberry of the Washington Post makes an excellent point in a recent column when he writes that the 1954 Supreme Court desegregation ruling was meant to improve education for the black child, not integration for integration's sake.

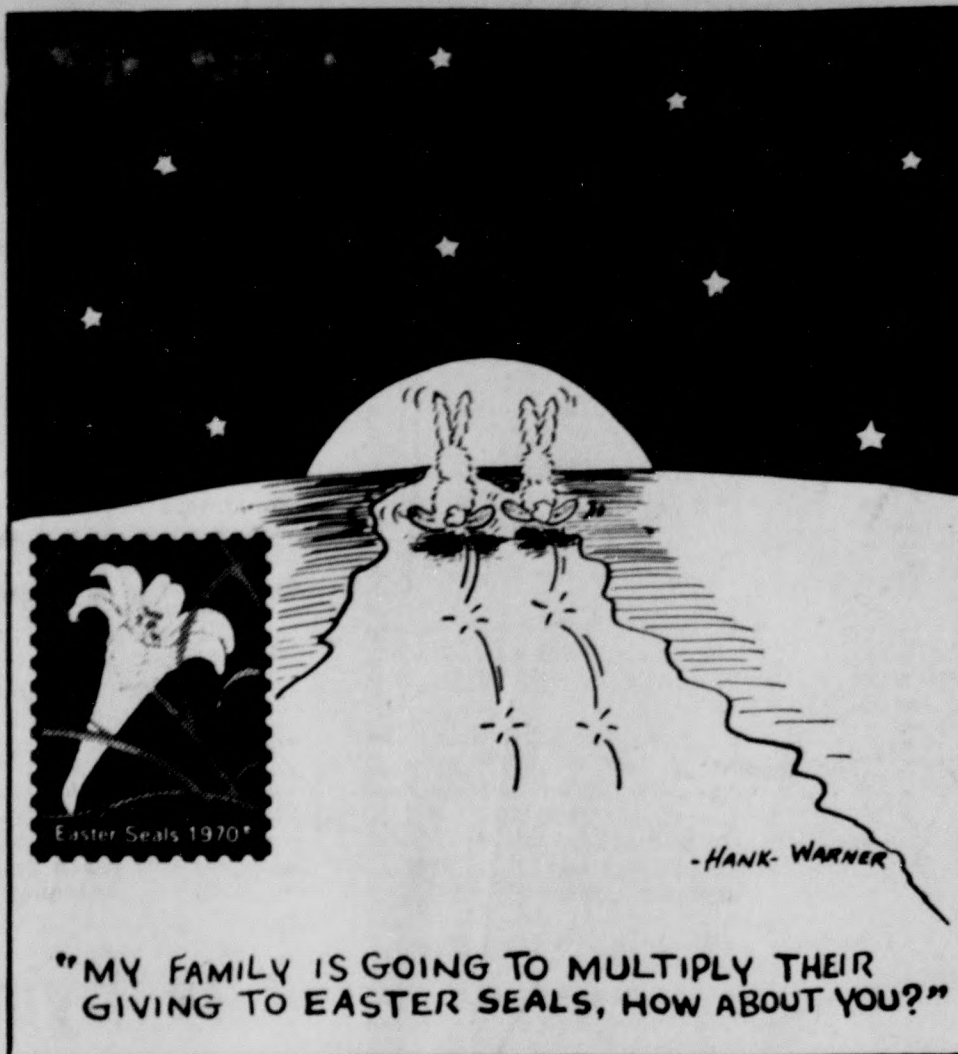

"... the aim of the suit was not so much integrated education but better education, with integration simply a means to an end," says Raspberry. "Much of the confusion today stems from the fact that the means has now become an end in itself."

"SUITS ARE being brought for integration, boundaries are being redrawn, busing is being instituted - not to improve education but to integrate classrooms," the columnist adds. "The results can sometimes be pathetic."

Raspberry goes on to discuss the Tri-School setup in Washington where two schools were considered not good and one considered good. The school board began busing children from the two "not good" schools to the "good" one. Said Raspberry:

"What happened, of course, is that instead of sprinkling their children around three schools, the luxury high-rise dwellers, black and white, packed their youngsters off to private schools. Now instead of one good and two bad schools, Southwest Washington has three bad ones."

Raspberry is a well-known and respected journalist, and many believe he has expressed - not only reason - but the view of most blacks here.

"MY FAMILY IS GOING TO MULTIPLY THEIR GIVING TO EASTER SEALS, HOW ABOUT YOU?"

A Little Bit

OF THIS AND THAT

By Bob Evans

Like many other popular terms, "The Establishment" is a difficult phrase to define.

Spelled with a lower-case "e," the word means something that is set up or stable. But as used by some persons or groups, and then spelled with a capital "E," the word seems to mean "something that has been around a long time but which ought to be discarded."

Here are a few thoughts on the meaning of the phrase and on some people who use it.

First, this writer believes the Establishment:

--Is not without faults.

--Is far better than the noisiest anti-Establishment critics maintain.

--Is never a valid excuse for destroying someone else's property and otherwise breaking the law.

As used by the anti-Establishment factions, the term seems to mean any and all examples of the "status quo."

And, the reasoning seems to go, anyone favoring the status quo is part of the Establishment, and is, therefore, a reactionary.

Unfortunately, a crucial part of the anti-Establishment creed seems to be a declaration that nothing already established is worth preserving.

It's ironic that some anti-Establishment people believe this, for it is a very unsophisticated argument, and the anti-Establishment types frequently accuse the apologists for the status quo of being "unsophisticated" in their thinking.

Our question here is, what's so sophisticated about insisting that nothing already established in our society is worth keeping?

What's sophisticated about urging the killing of policemen?

What's sophisticated about burning down a bank and raising other hell in the streets?

This isn't sophistication. It's murder, arson and anarchy.

Disturbed by last week's burning of its Isla-Vista branch office near Santa Barbara, the Bank of America has issued an open letter to Gov. Ronald Reagan, urging an end to "this wanton lawlessness."

One of the young rioters was quoted as saying the bank office was set on fire because it represented the Establishment.

We all can be thankful that the B of A's statement avoided that kind of stupidity.

Signed by Louis B. Lundborg, Bank of America's chairman of the board, the open letter noted "that one of the greatest dangers in our current situation is that an angered and outraged citizenry will take matters into their own hands, thus increasing the deadly spiral of violence."

This is a fair assessment of what did happen and what can happen when anybody--in or out of the Establishment--stops thinking and resorts to irrational acts.

It's worthwhile to look at and criticize our society and institutions, but when a lawless few take matters into their own hands, they have to be stopped.

It's also time that others who would also break the law over "disagreement" with the Establishment be on notice that they won't receive a friendly reception.

in the U.S.A.," he told the group.

The committee study included such factors as the funding of airports. The suggested solution was the setting up of a trust fund, perhaps by leveling a one-cent sales tax on all gasoline that is sold to users of aircraft. This tax would then be returned to the areas for airport development.

Another solution might be for a users tax levied on air fares and on cargo-carrying planes.

Noise problem

The problem of noise around airports was examined by the county committee, and the proposal was made to establish a noise level and anything above it would be prohibited. The level would have to be acceptable to the people living near the airports.

The committee suggested the airlines do everything possible to reduce noise in planes and on the ground around airports. Another idea was to re-develop airport areas by phasing out homes and putting in industrial or other compatible land uses that would not be disturbed by the noise factor.

On the subject of environment, Mikesell said all governments need to cooperate in solving pollution problems. He suggested area-wide criteria be established and administered in the areas. "If we don't do it, the state will do it for us," he said. "We will get so many districts that confusion would reign. So far county cooperation has looked promising," he said.

Commenting on questions from the audience, he said:

--Tax relief should come from the state with the state paying its "fair share." He suggested taxpayers demand the state change the tax structure.

--Devore Freeway, why the hassle? It was approved 35 years ago and put into the state highway system, the state should honor this commitment and get on with its completion.

MOTHER NATURE AGAIN

Well, it looks like old Mother Nature is not content with blowing us to death, she must now drip, drip at us. She is getting to be a nag and I hope the coming Easter season will improve her disposition. Perhaps if the trees would sprout some colored blossoms she'd stop all of this blowing and dripping and smile again.

REDI-RAIN

No that is not a title for more rain, but the name of a new company on Ninth Street that is most attractive and has the good graces to confine its rain to a most interesting fountain in front of their building. Unlike Mother Nature, they don't overdo it and being a lover of fountains I'm all for more of them (fountains) around town.

It is good to hear Capt. Pete Smith is back at work and feeling better after his bout with a gall bladder attack. He even managed to keep away from an operation and we hope he will keep on feeling better.

EXCELLENT SPEAKERS

Hats off to the Upland-Ontario Optimist Club who have had two fine speakers, Congressman Jerry Pettis and County Board of Supervisor, Dan Mikesell. This is a marvelous way to help the community meet and hear speakers who are in government. Hats off fellas.

SPEAKING OF HATS OFF

We doff the hat to Forrest Douchette who is helping with the Salvation Army campaign. This "retired" newspaper man is active in many community projects both in Ontario and Upland and nary a word is heard about his activities, he works so quietly. He is appreciated anyway and we say "hats off".

BOOK SALE

If you missed the three day book sale of the Friends of the Upland Library, you missed a good time. This group really had a nice sale. The books were all in sections so you could find what you wanted and the prices were right where you could see how much they were and finally the group served a steaming hot cup of coffee to you while you browsed. There were also some chairs, so if you felt like pre-reading a book you could do so, without standing on one foot, then another.

I really don't need to go to book sales as my shelves are loaded now, but every year I take out my "old" books and donate them to the book sale and then end up buying more.

Some of the fun of the sale was reading titles or messages on the front of the books. Warning: This book is not to be taken from the chemistry lab. One of the other books said, "Welcome Aboard"; a story of stewardesses? No, one about the Navy and its wonderful world.

HATS OFF

International Cookie Fair heads up Girl Scout anniversary

Chaffey District of the Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council will join with others across the nation in celebrating the 58th anniversary of Girl Scouting, the week of March 8-14.

Several Neighborhoods and many troops in the district have a variety of programs planned for observing the date. Ace Neighborhood -- which embraces Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda, will hold an International Cookie Fair at Alta Loma High School Saturday, March 14, from 2 to 4 p.m. Each troop will bake and sell cookies from various countries. The proceeds will go to the Juliette Lowe Friendship Fund. Program Chairman, Mrs. James Hayden, announced recently that many of the Scouts will be dressed in foreign costumes and will entertain with folk singing and dancing from the countries they represent.

Many Girl Scout troops in the district have various other troop activities planned; some include service projects, others plan quiet celebrations and rededication to the aims of Girl Scouting.

Some troops have planned special events for each day of the week -- Monday, homemaking; Tuesday, citizenship; Wednesday, health and safety; Thursday, international friendship; Friday, the arts; Saturday, outdoors.

Whatever the program, Girl Scouting has developed greatly since the day in 1912 when founder Juliette Lowe told a cousin, "I've got something for the girls... and all the world, and we're going to start it tonight!"

GIRL SCOUT CELEBRATION -- Looking over the bakery goods at Griswold's in preparation for Girl Scout Sunday breakfast are Sarah Rinehart, Brownie Troop 1009, Mrs. Keith Rinehart, troop leader, Colleen Teagel, junior troop 1027 and Susan Smith, cadet troop 1224. The breakfast was in observance of Girl Scout week, March 8-14.

FINIAN'S RAINBOW -- Alta Loma High School students will present the play, "Finian's Rainbow," in three performances scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 5, 6 and 7, at the high school. Don Bowers, director of the play, has a background of musical comedy, including leading roles in "South Pacific" and "Bye Bye Birdie." Rehearsing scene from the musical are Daniella Johnson, Don Johnson and Mark Herdrickson.

AL students get TB test

The San Bernardino County Health Department will give tuberculosis skin tests to Alta Loma High School students on Monday, March 9, at the school.

The health department urges parents to be sure children are tested. Forms have been mailed to parents. Upon receipt, the form should be signed by the parent or guardian and returned to the school.

According to the health department, the skin test is an important tool in preventing tuberculosis as the test determines whether or not a person has been exposed to the disease and has the tuberculosis germs in his body.

Although the germs may not cause illness, doctors have found that the size of the reaction to the test will help locate those who are most likely to develop the disease sometime in their lives.

These people can be protected against tuberculosis with a drug called INH. This drug is inexpensive and may be obtained through the family doctor or the health department.

Frank Ayala withdraws from election

City council candidate Frank V. Ayala said Friday in a letter to City Clerk Doreen Carpenter and The Daily Report he will not continue in the race for one of three council seats in the April municipal election.

Ayala's letter, a copy of which also went to the county registrar of voters, said, "I hereby want to inform your newspaper and news media, as well as the general public, that I have submitted a letter of withdrawal from the said race to Mrs. Doreen Carpenter, Upland city clerk, and Mr. William Clinton, County Registrar of Voters, effective immediately.

"Due to personal reasons and hardships on my family, I cannot continue in this campaign," he wrote.

Although Ayala has submitted the letter, his name will appear on the official election ballot.

Kite flying

Chaffey College will be counting on a fair March wind at noon, Friday, when the art department conducts a kite flying contest here.

The kites entered in the competition will be the net result of special class projects in design and sculpture. To qualify for the contest, the kites must be esthetic in appearance and capable of flying.

The contest site will be the lawn north of campus center; i.e., the slope of one of Chaffey's windier hills.

Candidate kites will be characterized by distinctive design and coloring, and they'll range from American contemporary to Oriental exotic.

Prizes will be awarded by the art teaching staff with physics professors doing the judging.

Guest speaker was Major General LeRoy H. Watson, United States Army, retired. His subject was National Defense. Mrs. Edward Capparelli, in colonial costume, sang a group of old songs, accompanying herself on guitar and banjo.

Mrs. Albert B. Cook, chairman of DAR Good Citizens, presented five senior high school girls for the DAR Good Citizens' Award. The girls are chosen by their classmates on the basis of service, leadership and patriotism. This year the

St. Mark's plans preaching mission

A new type of "pledge card" was signed by the members of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Upland, this week when parishioners were called upon by members of a visitation team and asked to sign a pledge to attend the Evangelistic Preaching Mission, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 8, 9 and 10.

The series of services will also be unique since the Rev. Frederick A. Fenton, rector, will evangelize his own parishioners, rather than directing the program to "unchurched" people.

The Mission will be held each of the three nights at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by question and answer sessions led by the Rev. Charles Bennison.

Father Fenton said that the Mission will give him, as a new pastor, an opportunity to explain his own understanding of the gospel and its relationship to Christians of today in depth. He will deal fully with his theories concerning crucial questions facing the church.

He also noted that Episcopal church members traditionally speak of their priest as "Father," denoting a pastoral closeness. Therefore, it is a natural thing for the church family to gather together and examine issues with the "head of the family."

Scouting News

Spanish Trails Council

More than 50 Junior Girl Scouts from two Upland troops of the Spanish Trails Council, joined together recently to observe "Thinking Day" at Sierra Vista Elementary School.

The combined troops, 1071 and 1215, based their program on Juliette Low and the World Friendship Fund. The Scouts enjoyed two films, "The Birthplace Trip" and "Friends Around the World". A choral reading, "A Wish Come True" followed; then the girls formed a friendship circle representing our world. Each girl received her World Association Pin at this time. The girls and their adults contributed to the World Wide Friendship Fund so that others can be helped and to further a better understanding of people all over the world.

Participation in this event not only served as a service project but helped the girls with the requirements for their Sign of the Arrow and Sign of the Star.

One day is set aside each year by Girl Scouts and Girl Guides everywhere as a day of joining their thoughts and sending them around the world as a prayer for world friendship. The day is also the birthdays of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of the organization.

PULSE of the PLAID

By Barbara Popadak

Academy of International Studies

How would you like to spend this summer in Paris? In the morning you would stroll along the Champs Elyses and the elegant right bank shopping area. Then, by motorcoach tour the major points of historic interest - Place de la Concorde, Sacre Coeur, Church of the Madeleine, the Opera, Arc de Triomphe, and the Eiffel Tower. Afterwards, you would lunch at a sidewalk cafe and spend the afternoon in the Louvre or ride down the Seine in a Bateau Mouche. That evening you would have dinner at a left bank restaurant and then on to a cave night club in the student sections of the Latin Quarter, or St. Germain des Pres.

If you are not an enthusiast of French culture, how do tours and study in Innsbruck, Austria; Madrid, Spain; London, England; or Moscow, Russia, sound?

These Studytreks and others to Mexico, Hawaii, Scotland, and Italy are being offered this summer by the Academy of International Studies.

The AIS strives to present a program that will give students a deep and accurate perspective of the various countries not sim-ly by passing through a foreign country but by "living in it." For instance, if a student chooses an English literature course at Oxford University, he may enrich his knowledge of Shakespeare by visiting his birthplace at Stratford-on-Avon. The Studytrek concept is based on this emphasis on total involvement.

Because of the belief that today's student will play a major part in shaping the future, the Academy has as its primary goal the introduction to the larger world in which the student will live.

The primary goals of the Academy are; to enlarge the student's cultural horizons by seeing people of other nations as they really are and by art, history, and other elements of culture; to provide an opportunity for independent maturing experience through possible personal discovery; to enrich the student's foreign language knowledge; and to promote individual student pride in accomplishments during the Studytrek program.

Further information on Studytreks and other study-tour programs can be obtained by writing to: Academy of International Studies, 9056 Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Pancake Breakfast

Flapjacks will be flipping, sweet syrup will be flowing freely, and sausage will be sizzling in the faithful frying pan this Saturday, March 7, in our cafeteria. A delicious pancake breakfast for all hungry Jacks and Jills will be served from 7:30 a.m. for all the early risers, till 11:30 a.m. for the sleepy heads.

Nowhere in the West End can breakfast be bought for a mere dollar or one hundred pennies. Tickets for this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity can be obtained from any Senior Senate member.

Students selling twenty-five tickets will be awarded a free Disneyland Grad Night ticket which sells for nine dollars. Also, the gourmet cooks, dishwashers, and waitresses will be given a 50% discount on their tickets for performing their services.

Proceeds from this event will be used to pay for Ditch Day expenses. So, residents of Upland, help fight inflation and take your entire family to breakfast this Saturday! You will also be helping some senior save money by purchasing breakfast tickets from him.

Quimby aiming for a return

Assemblyman John P. Quimby, D-Rialto, announced his candidacy for re-election to the State Legislature from San Bernardino County citing the continued need for "an independent voice in the State Capitol."

"More than ever before, the people in my 72nd Assembly District and the people of California need independent, constructive thinking unfettered by political philosophy or special interest lobbying," the lawmaker said.

Quimby, who took out his Declaration of Candidacy papers Feb. 27, said while he was a registered Democrat, "I feel that my philosophy is tuned to the needs of all the people regardless of party affiliation."

"I have criticized and opposed legislation regardless of the sponsor whether it be Governor Reagan or Minority Leader Jess Unruh if I felt it would work to the disadvantage of the people in my district."

One of the prime examples, Quimby said, is the threat to San Bernardino County of a possible halt to the State Water Project.

"As a senior member of the Assembly Water Committee," he said, "I intend to work diligently to ensure that this highly important water project is continued and that the residents of the southern counties receive the water which was promised them in 1960 when they approved the project's financing bonds."

Quimby said while there were "certain deficiencies" in the project and some question related to environmental controls, "we shouldn't shelve this mammoth undertaking after we have gone this far and after the voters have mandated that the arid regions of the south should be provided with water."

"Those who are opposed to continuing the water project," he said, "are short sighted, selfish and erratic."

"The people of my district and home county mandated this when they sent me to the Legislature and have continued to mandate this for the four terms I have served," Quimby said.

Businessmen to meet Miss OIA candidates

ALTA LOMA -- Opening event for the Miss Ontario International Airport contest will be a breakfast for Chaffey College candidates and businessmen March 12. The breakfast with Ontario Chamber of Commerce executive vice president Berger Nielsen in charge, will be at the Holiday Inn in Ontario at 7:30 a.m.

At this event, Miss OIA candidates will be guests of sponsoring merchants at the breakfast. There are 51 girls competing for the title of Miss OIA this year. The first judging of the contest will be in the Chaffey College cafeteria at noon, March 18, when the field will be reduced to 10 candidates.

The contest will climax with the Chaffey College Merchandising Club's coronation and spring fashion show on campus at 8 p.m. April 8. The new queen will be announced for the first time that night.

Brownell filing for State Senate

SAN BERNARDINO - Victorville Mayor David A. Brownell, 36, says he is a candidate for state senator from the 20th District.

An "Independent Democrat," Brownell will file for the June 2 primary election. He challenged opponents to open discussion of "realistic solutions to real problems that legislators thus far have only shadow-boxed."

Said Brownell: "Local property owners are burdened with a staggering tax load. State-based regulations must first seek to reduce the tax need, and, secondly, to re-distribute the burden."

"Tax reform must include a fairer distribution of state gasoline-tax revenues - based on actual usage, not vehicle registrations.

"And reform must include trimming of state overhead. Bureaucratic inefficiencies account for much waste. This money could, and should, be spent on people-centered programs," said Brownell, a Citrus Belt director of the League of California Cities.

Public education, largest single state expenditure, is often "unfairly tarred with the same brush used on fringe, radical groups when in fact it is the foundation toward solving a multitude of today's ills."

"Educators and legislators must be ever-cognizant of the needs and wishes of the people, and act accordingly."

Brownell, superintendent of Adelanto School District, is a member of the State Instruction Committee of California Association of School Administrators. He has served on California Teachers Association expert panel on personnel matters.

As chief school administrator, Brownell personally supervises annual budgets of more than $3 million as well as some 130 employees. He has initiated and supervised 10 construction programs totaling more than $4 million, including local, state and federal funds.

Since 1968, he has been mayor of a city of 12,000 with a $1.2 million yearly budget and 30 employees, where programs include annexations, urban renewal, a $1.3 million streets program, civic center and library projects and assumption of special districts.

Brownell's reputation for careful management of public funds is reflected in his school district, which has had, consistently, one of the lowest (if not the lowest) tax rates in the county during the past eight years. The City of Victorville has no property tax.

With steadily increasing responsibility, Brownell served as coach, recreation director, coordinator of curriculum and building programs, administrative assistant, principal (at age 24) and district superintendent, serving at Twenty-nine Palms, Cucamonga, Wrightwood and Adelanto.

Brownell began shouldering responsibility at an early age.

"I never worked less than 40 hours a week while attending college full-time," he recalls.

He attended eight colleges and universities (he holds three degrees) and received two fellowship grants, in athletics and foreign language.

Brownell's early employment reads like a job registry - cotton-picker, butcher, painter, carpenter (he designed and built two homes for his family), psychiatric technician, truck driver, salesman, clerk, radio disk jockey and entertainer.

Brownell was named to "Who's Who in American Education." He was a White House Fellowship finalist. He served as consultant on a federal manpower development project, for private industry.

Today, he is a member of Zone 4 County Flood Control Advisory Committee. He was a coordinator for a recent Congress for Community Progress.

A Rotarian and an Elk, he has been a member of commerce director. He is a member of numerous professional organizations.

Married at the age of 19, Brownell and his wife, 10-year residents of Victorville, have four children, ages 6 through 13. His parents reside in Montclair.

Savings insured to $20,000.00 by an Act of Congress.

Upland Savings pays the maximum interest on insured savings. No other insured financial institution in America can offer you higher interest or more insurance, because all insured financial institutions' interest and insurance are regulated by governmental regulations.

Upland Savings is a part of America's insured savings system whose total assets exceed $150,000,000.00 (150 billion dollars) and where, throughout America, over 44,000,000 (44 million) savers save. As a savings counselor, we suggest you look at more than the stated rate of yield of investments. If you had needed to "cash-in" your investment before maturity this past year, you would sustain substantial losses. In 1969 only Upland Savings would have returned your investment plus high earnings.

You too, can benefit by saving with us.

SCRAMBLIN' BACK — Upland second baseman Rick Price scrambles back to the bag as Ontario pitcher Brad Johnston fires to first baseman Cornell Hall in attempt to catch Price asleep.

Chaffey squad finishes 'unperfect' cage season

If you happen to see Chaffey Head Coach Barney Newlee soon, understand the reason for his bloodshot eyes and headache. The Chaffey College Basketball coach is still "crying" over his Panther's season.

The Panther basketball squad went throughout the season without a single victory, against 28 losses!

The season windup was against Mission Conference winner San Bernardino. The Indians won with ease, 83-64, led by the top rebounder in the state, Sam Cash, Cash led a surge against the much shorter Panthers that proved too much to overcome. By the end of the night the big man had collected 40 points, and completely dominated the boards.

The Panthers played their usual game of try-to-catch-up from the outset, but still trailed the Indians 36-30 at intermission. For some psychological reason, the Panther Five have come out cold in the second half in their last 20 games, allowing the opposition to make the contest a runaway.

Lowell Jones, the tallest man on the Panther squad at 6-5, led his team with 22 points, with Forward Gary Crossman, a Chaffey High standout, contributing 11, and Bill Beckley adding 10.

The Indians led the Conference with a 9-3 record one game ahead of Grossmont. They will now advance to the State J.C. Tournament against the title-holder from the South Coast Conference.

But for Barney Newlee, provided he does get over his mind-bending experience, the season begins tomorrow in recruiting good and preferably tall high school talent from the Chaffey High School District. The Panther coach has one joyful thought, as all but one of his squad will return. The one sophomore is Bob Caputo.

Indians scalped by Chaffey track squad

The Chaffey College track team clobbered San Bernardino 101-1/2-43 last week.

The scalping of the Indians put the Chaffey Spikesters' overall record at 2-0.

The Panthers dominated the running events, placing first in seven of ten events. They also captured first place in four of seven field events, with Ernie Cathcart yet to be beaten in the shot put.

Cathcart has had trouble with his tosses, regressing from his first toss of over 55 feet, but won despite his somewhat short put 54 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Relays seem to be the Panthers' best events, as they won both the 440-yard and the 1-mile relay with ease. The times were 43.1 and 3:22.2, respectively. The Panther relay teams have yet to lose, but their times will have to improve if they wish to remain undefeated.

Steve Williams captured the 120-yard high hurdles with a good time of 12.8, best in Southern California that week, while the Panther pole vaulters took first, second and third with a disappointing height of 13-6. It was LeRoy Miller's first win of the season, although he is capable of much better heights. Tim Wilson finished second on fewer misses than teammate Joe Brogdon.

Brogdon also won the javeline with a heave of 176'6", while the Panther sprinters collected wins in the 100, 220, and 440-yard events.

Damien track squad beats Walnut High

Coming off of a disappointing basketball season, Damien High School is not wasting any time during the track season. The Spartans clobbered St. Francis and Walnut Highs in a triangular meet. Damien collected 76, St. Francis had 46, and Walnut, falling far short of their basketball team's record, managed only 29 points.

Dennis Linsey was the Spartan big winner, collecting wins in both the 120-yard and 180-yard hurdles, with times of 15.2 seconds and 20.3 seconds, respectively.

The Spartans won six of nine running events to far exceed their opponents. The winning 440-yard relay team finished 30 yards ahead of the second-place finisher, St. Francis, and raced to a time of 44.8.

Chaffey nine edges by Mt. San Jacinto

Three errors, three men caught stealing, and 10 men left stranded are definitely not the statistics for a winning baseball team, but the Chaffey College Panthers managed to squeak by the visiting Eagles from Mount San Jacinto, 6-5, despite playing sloppy baseball.

The win snapped a three-game losing streak for the Chaffey squad, which is trying to recuperate from a series of injuries to several starting players.

Chaffey collected all six of its runs in the first three innings, and held off a strong bid by the Eagles in the last three. Gary Roma squeezed in the first Panther run in the bottom of the initial inning, and Chaffey got two more in the second on errors.

Damien names alumnus to coach grid team

Damien High School in La Verne has named alumnus Mike Churchill to direct the Spartan football teams, replacing Jim Knapp, who announced his resignation as Athletic Director and football coach.

Churchill returned to his Alma Mater last year as an assistant coach. Father James Mitchell, school principal, said an athletic director will be appointed at a later date.

Churchill, 25, was the Athlete of the Year at Pomona Catholic Boys High, the previous name of the high school, in 1963, and the Most Valuable Player in the league. He was an Honorable Mention All-American.

Following his high school career, Churchill played two seasons both at Mt. San Antonio College and La Verne College. He served two years as an assistant coach at Garden Grove High before coming to Damien in 1969 as head defensive coach.

Churchill is now working for his Master's degree in history at Pepperdine College. He and his wife, Rita, reside in La Verne and have a daughter, 4-years-old, Roberta.

Imperial takes cage tourney

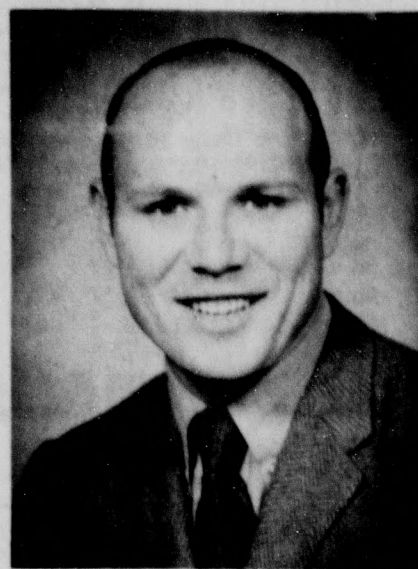

The championship round of the YMCA Junior High Basketball tournament, sponsored by the Ontario Y's Men's club, was won by Imperial Junior High in both the A and B divisions. Imperial's A team drew a bye and by virtue of that was placed in the championship round against the winner of the Vernon-Ramona game. In the first game, Ramona defeated Vernon (28-19) on the strength of a fine floor game, a 10 point production by Manuel Delgado. Vernon, in scoring was led by Tom Benito with 10 points. In the loser's bracket, Ramona defeated Serrano 27-26. Ramona was led by the inside outside combination of Tim Smith's 12 points and San Jones 10 points. For Serrano, Larry Lundquist played an outstanding floor game and contributed 15 points.

The championship game found Imperial defeating Ramona 30-25 in a well played, highly contested game. Imperial's overall board strength led by Galaza Munoz and Stevens was the determining factor in the game for Imperial. Galaz led the scoring with a total of 9 points. Ramona's scoring was led by Manuel Delgado, with a total output of 19 points, which almost pulled the game out at the end.

Cavalier swim team dunked by Highlanders

The Highlander swimmers added one more league championship in the school files last week, as the mermen raced their way past Montclair, 83-11. Just one week earlier, the Highlanders grabbed the San Antonio League wrestling crown by defeating second-place Chino, 106-104.

The afternoon turned into a complete success for the Scots, as both the Bee team and Cee team came out victorious. The Bee swimmers posted a 51-35 win over the Cavalier Bees, while the Cees routed Montclair, 67-10, to take all three championships.

These Women Will Enjoy Spring and Easter With New Slim Figures Created by The Pat Walker Reducing Program

MRS. ANTOINETTE M. BALON OF LAKEWOOD, with the Pat Walker Program, reduced from a bulging size 16 to a perfect size 12. Mrs. Balon reduced 3 inches from her waist, 5½ inches from her abdomen, 4½ inches from her hips, 3½ inches from each thigh and 2 inches from each upperarm. Mrs. Balon reduced 31½ inches overall and 28½ pounds.

8 YEAR OLD MICHELLE BRENNAN OF ORANGE COUNTY, with the Pat Walker Program, reduced 8½ inches from her hips, 8 inches from her abdomen, 5½ inches from each thigh, 2½ inches from each upperarm and 3 inches from each knee. Michelle reduced 25 pounds and a total of 59½ inches.

MRS. MARY SHAVER OF BEVERLY HILLS, with the Pat Walker Program, reduced 3 inches from her bust, 4 inches from her underbust, 4½ inches from her waist, 6½ inches from her abdomen, 5 inches from her hips, 3 inches from each thigh, 1½ inches from each upperarm and from size 16 to size 10.

MRS. ELMA ROSCOE OF TORRANCE, with the Pat Walker Program, reduced 2 inches from her bust, 3 inches from her waist, 2½ inches from her abdomen, 3 inches from her hips and 3 inches from each thigh. She reduced from a size 14 to a perfect size 8.

You'll Reduce in All the Places You Should

by Miss Pat Walker, the Internationally Recognized Reducing Authority

Now that Spring and Easter is fast approaching, it suddenly makes a woman realize that her figure is so important to her because the new season's smartest clothes are available in sizes for only slim figures.

All too often, a woman will tell us how the previous year's Spring and Summer were ruined because she tried on her previous year's clothes and found the added inches and weight made it impossible for her to wear them. And after shopping for new clothes, she became demoralized and disheartened because nothing looked the way it should. This resulted in a minimum wardrobe "just to get by" and the excuse of why she didn't want to be seen at social activities.

It is a shame that all so many women experience this because in truth it need not happen. Today, it is better to invest money in a new figure than try to buy clothes to disguise it. You can buy your figure back just as you would purchase clothes, furniture, automobiles or anything else.

The only thing is that it is a service and you have to come to the salon to get it. But, it is nice to know that we make reducing most pleasant and therefore a woman enjoys the time spent with us.

I visit with so many, many women of every age, walk of life and nationality, and each woman thinks her figure problems are so very different from another woman's that it will work for the other woman but not for her.

After a figure analysis, she realizes her figure problems are really not so different and that thousands of others have experienced the same problems that she has and suddenly she regains hope and faith that something can be done for her and her own figure problems. When she has had her figure analysis, she knows where she needs to lose, what it will cost her, and how long it will take.

It is a very proud, secure, happy woman who receives compliments and attention of those closest to her because she becomes a new person both in appearance and personality. This has not been luck on her part, she made her own luck when she recognized she had figure problems and came to us for help.

A Personal Reducing Incentive to All Women

As a special inducement for you who need to reduce, here's that added incentive. Use the above check to start your reducing program so that you too can have that appealing new look you've always hoped for and you too can have a new slim figure for Spring and Easter. Come in, phone TODAY for your personal appointment for a FREE trial treatment and photometric figure analysis without obligation.

If you feel that your figure problems are next to hopeless, if you think that reducing will work for everyone but not for you, if you think you are too old, or too young, or too flabby, or that your bone structure is too large or too small, or that you have waited too long, or that you have an impossible reducing problem, or if you have found some unique, special excuse for your overweight problems, then this check, which may be used as a special incentive offer valued at $20.00, may be used by you to start reducing now so that you can enjoy Spring and Easter with a new figure that you will be proud of, because you too can reduce quickly and easily in complete privacy, without strenuous exercise, without disrobing, without starvation diets as over 5,000,000 women have done with our program. If you should make the decision to start reducing now you may use this check valued at $20.00 this week only and apply it to the cost of your figure correction.

Polynesian show coming to Ontario

The public is invited to a program of Polynesian entertainment March 7 at Chaffey High School's Gardner W. Spring Auditorium in Ontario.

The show will start at 8 p.m. and is titled "Invitation to Paradise, the Fulmaono Family Polynesian Show." It will feature 60 island actors, singers and dancers. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1 for persons under 18. The show will include war chants of primitive Samoa, ceremonial dances and lovers' songs of the Polynesian Triangle.

Tickets can be purchased at the auditorium box office.

The program is sponsored by the Seventies Quorum of the Church of Latter-Day Saints.

MISSION ART DAYS — A rare painting of "The Last Supper" being restored by Emmerich Piebel, Vista artist... It will be specially displayed with numerous other precious works of early California mission art, in paintings, wood-carvings, metal work, and fabrics, at Old Mission San Luis Rey, near Oceanside, during the annual "Mission Art Days," Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8.

San Luis Rey art display

Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8 are "Mission Art Days" at historic Old Mission San Luis Rey, three miles east of Oceanside, on Highway 76. Special displays will show the variety and richness of early Mission art in paintings, wood-carvings, metal work, fabrics and ancient religious objects. The public is cordially invited.

Featured will be the recently returned oil painting of "Our Lady of Sorrows" by Marru Fernandez (1642). This has been reframed and hung in the Old Mission Church so that after its three-year absence visitors may once again view it.

Visitors will also be able to see some of the recent extensive restoration of the Indian motifs in the baptistry, Madonna chapel and Mission church. Binding materials are colors approximating those used by the Indians, and were employed by Mr. Emmerich Piebel, Vista artist, who did the restoration work. Within the past three years, the entire interior of the Old Mission church received this restoration.

The mission's ample picnic facilities are available without charge, where the family may lunch amidst pleasant surroundings.

The Old Mission museum will be open and tours will be conducted by brown-robed Franciscan friar guides, on Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8, from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission is fifty cents for adults; twenty-five cents for youngsters over 12.

All proceeds are used for further restoration and maintenance of the historic Old Mission San Luis Rey.

Taxpayers ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I used Schedule T to figure out my tax. Do I have to send it in with my 1040?

A) Most taxpayers do not have to send in the schedule T with their tax returns. However, if you are subject to self-employment tax, or claim retirement income credit, investment credit or foreign tax credit, you will have to file Schedule T with your return.

Q) What is the filing deadline for farmers who did not send in an estimated tax return?

A) Under the Tax Reform Act of 1969, farmers now have until March 1 to file their return and avoid penalties for not making estimated tax declarations. This gives farmers two weeks more than they previously had to gather their records and prepare their return.

Since March 1 is a Sunday this year, farmers have until March 2 to file. Farmers should attach Schedule F to their Form 1040 and pay in full any tax that is due. Checks or money orders should be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service and identified by the taxpayer's Social Security number to make sure it is properly credited.

Q) I will be sending in my tax return under my married name this year. Do I need a new Social Security number or anything else because of the change?

A) No, your number remains the same. However, make note of the change right under the address section on the front page of the Form 1040 you file. Enter here the name and address appearing on your 1968 tax return.

If you haven't already done so, give the local office of the Social Security Administration your new name and address.

Q) I bought Christmas cards from my church. Can I deduct what they cost as a charitable contribution on my tax return?

A) Unless you contributed an additional amount to your church over and above what the cards ordinarily cost, no deduction may be taken. The rule in this case is that charitable deductions are allowed when the amount of the purchase price exceeds the fair market value of the item received in exchange. Compare the cost of the cards to that of other cards of a similar nature to see if you have contributed.

Q) When you inherit stock and then sell it, do you have to pay tax on the proceeds?

A) Your cost basis for the stock is its value at the date of death of the decedent from whom you inherited it. If you receive more than this basis on a sale, the gain is reported as a capital gain. If you receive less, the loss is reported as a capital loss.

Art display

CLAREMONT — One of the most important collections of American paintings in the U.S. will be on display during March in the Young Gallery of the Lang Art Galleries on the Scripps College Campus.

The General and Mrs. Edward Clinton of 71 paintings, beginning chronologically, with George Inness, the last painter of the Hudson River School.

It includes works by American Impressionists the Romantic and Picturesque Painters, the Mysticism and Fantasy Painter and "The Eight."

The public is invited to view the Young Collection from 1:30 to 5 p.m. daily at Lang Galleries. It is shown annually in March.

Vets' group starts blood benefit fund

Seven pints of blood for one dollar! Unbelievable?

No, it's a fact. That's what Pomona Valley Barracks, Veterans of World War I are making available to their buddies who reside in the Pomona Valley.

Officially known as the Fifth District Blood Benefit Fund, a branch of the Veterans of World War I, Inc., the Fund furnishes up to seven pints of blood to those veterans who find themselves requiring blood transfusions, at a cost of one dollar a year.

That's but a part of the program offered to this aging group who grow increasingly susceptible to the discomforts and disabilities of old age. It's not a government subsidy, nor is it administered by government appointees. The Fund is financed and disbursed by the veterans organization, Pomona Valley Barracks Barracks #451, Veterans of World War I, Commander Sam Stavros and Adjutant Emil Swanson say they are eager to have this fact known by veterans who may benefit from this information.

The Pomona Valley Barracks is active in keeping their buddies informed about effective and proposed legislation affecting their interests and in caring for their sick, disabled and house-bound.

Any veteran of World War I desiring information about the Blood Benefit Fund or any benefits to which they may be entitled should write to Emil Swanson, Adjutant of the Barracks, 436 Alvarado Ave., Pomona, Calif., 91767.

Floral show applications are invited

SAN BERNARDINO — Flower arrangers entering the Flower and Garden Show at the 55th National Orange Show in San Bernardino this year will have a vast horizon of ideas to draw from—since the "Pacific Panorama" theme has already stirred the imagination of early entrants.

Created from fresh cut plant materials including flowers, branches and foliage, the flower arrangement division is again divided into three parts: novice, intermediate and advanced. Displays are limited to three days, providing three different changes during the 11-day run. Four cash awards are presented in each section. Arrangements are judged on the day of entry and displayed in a special area.

Further information and entry blanks may be obtained by contacting the National Orange Show, 689 S. E. St., 92408, Phone 885-0201.

Entries for Amateur Arrangers, Junior Arrangers, Dish Gardens, Japanese Arrangers and Master Arrangers must be returned by March 15.

Probation subsidy aid effects seen

SACRAMENTO—A mid-year survey of California's probation subsidy program indicates that expected commitments of youths and adults to state institutions during 1969-70 will be reduced by an estimated 3,408 cases, considerably more than expected earlier.

The first quarter survey last fall had projected the reduction in expected commitments for the year at 3,178.

The new estimate marks a slight increase from 1968-69, when expected commitments were reduced by 3,317. The program is now in its fourth year and 1968-69 was the peak year.

Forty-six counties are now participating in the program, in which the state provides subsidies to counties in return for reductions in levels of commitment. The earnings must be used to provide intensive probation programs for youthful and adult offenders.

Bank dividend

POMONA—Inland Bank Corporation has declared a 2 percent stock dividend payable on March 26 to shareholders of record Feb. 18. Fractional shares, said President Wilson H. Adel, will be paid in cash.

The corporation, a one bank holding company, was formed in the Spring of 1969 and acquired substantially all shares of Inland Bank as of last July 30, 1969.

The Bank is a Pomona Valley independent with headquarters in Pomona and offices in Ontario and Claremont.

Anti-drug program commended

SAN FRANCISCO—The Senate of the State of California has officially commended California Blue Shield for its statewide campaign against the misuse of dangerous drugs.

Senator George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco, said the commendation was awarded to the non-profit prepaid health care form "for its recognition of the public need for information on the use of illegal drugs and its outstanding public service in undertaking its drug abuse informational campaign."

Blue Shield inaugurated its campaign in mid-1969. It consists of the distribution of films and printed materials to the largest possible audience throughout the state, and carefully avoids the preaching and misinformation so repugnant to the youth of California, according to Blue Shield President Thomas C. Paton.

A trilogy of Blue Shield films is available to community groups and schools on a free loan basis.

"The films are designed to influence a youthful audience through use of reasoned humane examination of the drug problem rather than scare tactics and panic," the State resolution notes.

The three films, narrated by Paul Newman, Rod Taylor and Robert Mitchum, have been aired or scheduled on television stations in all of the state's ten major market areas. Each film closes with a discussion by Dr. David Smith, head of the Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic and a University of California professor, and Dr. Everett Salmon, a Santa Rosa physician and chairman of the Sonoma County Drug Abuse Advisory Council.

JC enrollment rise continues

LOS ANGELES—Within the next five years, as many as 85 per cent of all first and second-year college students in California may be enrolled in junior colleges, a University of Southern California educator has predicted.

The current figure is approximately 70 per cent according to Dr. Leslie Wilbur, chairman of the Department of Higher Education in USC's School of Education.

There are more than 1,000 public and private two-year colleges of all types in the U.S., employing an estimated 80,000 teachers and serving more than two million students, Dr. Wilbur said in an interview.

"I expect the community junior colleges across the nation soon will outnumber senior colleges and universities," the USC educator declared.

Deadline told for welfare exemptions

PASADENA - March 15 is the deadline for filing claims for welfare exemptions from property taxes, Richard Nevins has warned religious, hospital, scientific and charitable institutions.

Nevins, Southern California member of the State Board of Equalization indicated that "early filing with your county assessor will allow time for remedying, or clarifying any weaknesses in your claim."

Nevins cautioned all claimants to review their articles of incorporation or amendments submitted must be stamped by the Secretary of State prior to March 1, or facts cannot be considered; also the corporate name on the claim must be stated exactly as it is stated on the articles; a dba is not acceptable. On exemption form line 4, the proper date for this year would be 1970-71. If 1969-70 is used, forms would be processed for late filing and the law applicable for that fiscal year would be applied.

The Board of Equalization is the final authority on the eligibility for welfare exemptions, except that the assessor may deny an exemption to a claimant the Board regards as eligible for exemptions Nevins said.

Pulitzer winner to join faculty

CLAREMONT--- Dr. Leonard W. Levy, winner of the Pulitzer Prize in History last year, will join the faculty of Claremont Graduate School next July 1. Dr. Levy, 46 comes to Claremont from Brandeis University. He has been dean of the graduate school and dean of the faculty there and is chairman of the graduate program in the History of American Civilization and Earl Warren professor of constitutional history.

He also is faculty representative to the Brandeis University Board of Trustees.

Get it in writing

Consumers each year spend an increased amount of their incomes on services ranging from major repairs, dry cleaning, insurance, travel accommodations to health services.

Customers frequently complain to the Better Business Bureau about service bills that are substantially higher than verbal estimates given before the work started.

It is important to recognize that there is a big difference between a verbal estimate and an actual written firm bid. Although most service firms are honest, there are a few which cause a majority of the complaints.

A few trouble-making sharpshooters habitually surprise their customers with final bills much higher than the first low estimate. However, reliable service firms can be expected to let the customer know when they encountered unexpected ditional cost and seek authorization to proceed with the higher priced work and give a full itemized statement when the service is completed.

Buying services differs from buying goods, which a consumer can examine, touch and see before purchasing. When buying services the consumer places his trust in the person performing the service.

The BBB advises:
- Know the service firm's reputation before engaging his services, deal only with those you know are reliable.
- Get all estimates in writing.
- When in doubt, find out from your Better Business Bureau.

The Better Business Bureau offers a variety of information pamphlets to aid consumers in becoming more knowledgeable when purchasing services.

$1 fee could fight smog

The Automobile Club of Southern California has proposed that the State Legislature increase the motor vehicle registration fee by one dollar for one year beginning July 1, 1970, to be paid into an Automotive Air Pollution Research Fund to finance an accelerated program aimed at reducing automotive air pollution.

The program also calls for specific research activity and the appointment of an Automotive Air Pollution Research Panel to coordinate it.

A statewide effort on the part of the AAA motor clubs was evidenced by a similar concurrent announcement by the California State Automobile Association operating in the northern half of the state.

The proposal was announced following a meeting of the Auto Club's Board of Directors which took the action after "intensive study to develop a realistic program which will produce meaningful results in the battle against smog caused by automobiles."

In making the announcement, Neil Petree, Auto Club President, explained that the proceeds of this increased registration fee should be made available for research and administrative purposes over a period of three years, at which time the need for additional funding would be assessed and any excess remaining would be transferred to the Motor Vehicle Fund.

"Our estimate is that this proposed increase would produce approximately $10 million," he added.

The grant will be applied to the new Four-County Science Building which serves Claremont Graduate School, Claremont Men's College, Pitzer College and Scripps College. Constructed at a cost of $2,300,000, the building houses programs in graduate psychology and undergraduate biology, chemistry and physics.

$10,000 grant

CLAREMONT - The Gulf Oil Foundation has presented a capital grant of $10,000 to The Claremont Colleges.

The grant will be applied to the new Four-County Science Building which serves Claremont Graduate School, Claremont Men's College, Pitzer College and Scripps College. Constructed at a cost of $2,300,000, the building houses programs in graduate psychology and undergraduate biology, chemistry and physics.

Population growth in state down

California population growth slowed during the past decade, Security Pacific National Bank reports. An average annual statewide gain of 447,400 during the 1960's is down from 513,100 per year during the 1950's.

Declines have occurred in both immigration and natural increase (births less deaths), according to the Economic Research Department at Security Pacific.

Immigration, which netted an average of 227,000 additional California residents a year during 1961 and 1962, has accounted for only 87,000 a year for the past two years.

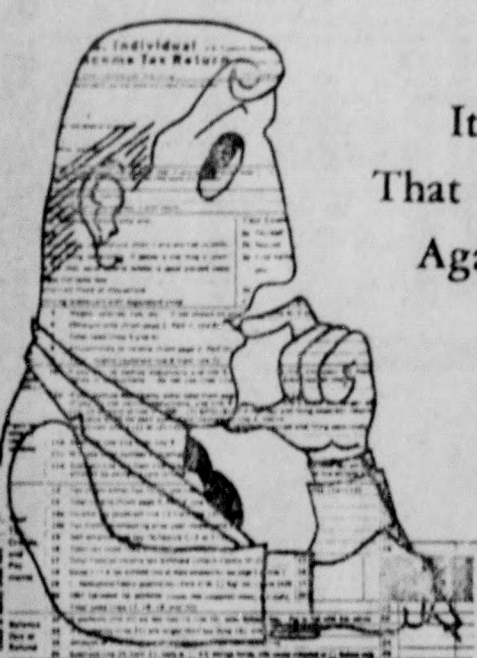

Natural increase fell from 143,257 in 1961 to 109,083 in 1966. Subsequently, however, it has risen gradually, having accounted for an estimated population growth of 116,000 last year.

In terms of percentage growth during the 1960's California placed fourth among the states with a 26.3 percent gain.
